Camping gear is considered safety gear for day guides on trips, in case of an emergency or unplanned overnight. This includes a stove, sleeping bags, tarp & string. It is not necessary to bring this daily as your instructors will carry it. If during scenarios you need something from this Camping/Safety Gear bag, you will be welcome to borrow it.

Optional but recommended if you already have them:

| <input type="checkbox"/> Handheld Marine Radio | <input type="checkbox"/> Flares |
|--|---------------------------------|

Clothing: (suggested)

- A good sun hat with a brim, and a toque
- 3-4 pair underwear (you can always wash some)
- 3-4 pair wool/synthetic socks
- Bathing suit/shorts and 1 small towel (pack towel is best)
- 1 pair long underwear, top & bottoms (synthetic or wool)
- 1-2 long-sleeve synthetic shirts (fleece style is best)
- 1 set of good, waterproof rain gear: jacket and pants
- 1 warm synthetic puffy jacket/insulation jacket that packs down nicely
- 2 pairs of long pants (preferably not cotton)
- 1 pair of water friendly sandals, water socks or booties (flip flops are not appropriate water shoes)
- 1 pair of light hiking boots or runner

Note: Cotton gear gets wet quickly and becomes heavy, very cold and dries very slowly. Wool or synthetic gear acts like a wick and moisture is drawn to the outer layers. Jeans are not appropriate pants for this program. Wearing layers including wool and synthetic is best for our climate.

Other gear

- Sunscreen and sunglasses with straps, Zinc sticks for face – (Please ensure all sunscreen is reef friendly)
- Toiletries - toothbrush, toothpaste, brush/comb, face cloth, contacts/glasses, bush toilet kit (tp, soap, bags to pack out) etc.
- Flashlight or headlamp (with an extra set of batteries)
- Medication – It is mandatory to bring an extra set of medication for the instructor to pack if you have a severe allergy; anaphylactic or have any critical medications you cannot be without; just in case they get spoiled, wet or need to be administered by the instructor
- Synthetic sleeping bag (not down or cotton/flannel bags, which absorb moisture and don't insulate well in a marine environment)
- 1L water bottle
- 2 -dry bags (mid-size, not over 15L, 10 litres is best for packing)
- Write in the rain book for note taking. (These should be small, 5" X 2.5 "is perfect for packing in a pocket)
- Paddling Gloves, poggies (neoprene over-mit) or neoprene gloves

Extras if camping:

- Synthetic sleeping bag - not down filled or cotton/flannel lined, which absorb moisture and don't insulate well in a coastal environment (we have extras, they have a $20+GST cleaning fee)
- Thermarest/inflatable sleeping pad or insulated pad (we have extras, they have a $15+GST cleaning/maintenance fee)
- Shelter - Tent, hammock, tarp (whatever you would like to sleep in)
- Bug spray can be helpful at your camp; however, some people are sensitive to them and many brands - particularly those containing DEET - are highly toxic. Please use bug spray with care or consider a natural brand or bug net.

What do you bring with you daily when on the Level 1 course?

1. Your wetsuit and or dry suit. We will be getting wet every afternoon.
2. Pack a full change of warm clothing in a 10 litre dry bag that is watertight, including rain gear.
3. Pack a full lunch, snacks and 2 liters of water and possibly a thermos of tea.

If you take medication or have any allergies, you must duplicate (two sets) and separate into two weatherproof case/bag with labels so the instructor has their own set of medication for your safety
